Lakewood Senior High School
4400 Briercrest Avenue
Lakewood, California
Volume XXV
Editors: Richard Harpham, Andrea Paul, Patrick Ries, Colleen Thacker

The odyssey began in 1957 with the opening of Lakewood High School and has proved to be a momentous trip. The students entering in 1982 were a continuation of the scholars, athletes and performers that have become alumni. The silver anniversary was a special time for all students. Freshmen and sophomores quickly adjusted to Lancer life. The juniors made major contributions to celebrate the school's birthday. The Class of 1982 was especially proud to carry on the many traditions of the school. The odyssey continues, but 1982 will always be remembered as that special anniversary year which celebrated twenty-five years of education.

1. KEITH KELLY loves to "wail" on the drums. 2. The ROTC pages were a major part of the silver anniversary celebration. 3. RENE ROBERTS has a fun lunchtime crowd. 4. Jesters GUY NELSON and STUART MILLER entertain the crowds. 5. PAUL NYSSEN has a good time in political behavior class. 6. Varsity and JV Yell form a pyramid of pride. 7. HOWARD SHADWELL and CHRIS CASDORPH rush to the stadium for graduation ceremonies.

CHRIS-WHAT CAN I SAY WE HAVE HAD QUITE A YEAR! THE BEGINNING WAS RADICAL AND WE KIND OF GOT SEPERATED TWARDS THE END BUT I STILL CARE SO MUCH ABOUT YOU YOUR LIKE A LITTLE SIS TO ME PLEASE KEEP IN TOUCH

LOVE YA

Many Lancers found that 1982 was the year for meeting new friends and getting to know some old friends a little better. Most students had a special place to meet with their group to hear the latest gossip, discuss Friday night's game, or just review for that big chemistry test. Often times a Lancer pair found a quiet corner in which to study, talk or just kick back. One of the best opportunities was that of meeting people of so many different cultures and backgrounds. There was truly a mixture of students on campus and everyone gained from the experience. No matter what the pursuit, the friendly and open atmosphere made every student feel welcome.

1. DANA BOOTH gives a friendly Lancer welcome. 2. CHERYL FUCHIGAMI and RENE ROBERTS search for their alpha stations on the first day of school. 3. DARRYL TODD helps DAWN BORDEN with a class assignment. 4. JAMES CALDER meets a strange amoeba in MRS. SANDER'S biology class. 5. RON ROEBUCK attempts to talk LY VAN into doing his typing assignment. 6. TOM GOMBRICH learns about body repair from MRS. LEE. 7. MRS. BLACK gets the "low down" from MIKE STEVENS. 8 SHAWN LEVESQUE learns that BIG "RED" COUNTRY is universal. 9. PEGGY CARVILLE discusses college entrance requirements with MR. BRASSER.

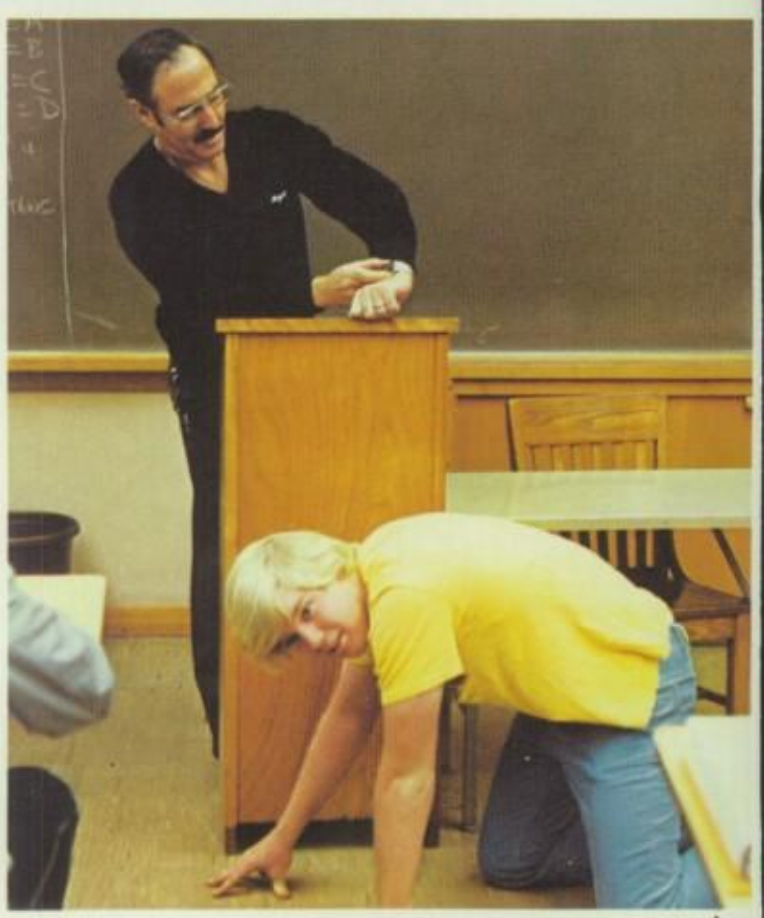
9

GETTING TO KNOW YOU

"Hey Mom, it's 8:15 and I'm going to be late!" The hours spent at school each day were always filled with hope and excitement. The big test in computer math was sometimes a stumbling block, but most students found that diligent studying led to success. Snack and lunch periods provided special times to congregate and to make friends. Many Lancers spent uncounted hours after the regular school day participating in sports, drilling for ROTC, practicing for pepsters, working on the annual and newspaper, rehearsing for musicals and plays, as well as working at a variety of jobs. After a long day, favorite movies on cable television and listening to music provided an escape. Everyone looked forward to the weekends for relaxation, working and being with friends.



4

1. PATTY BROOKS and friends gulp down breakfast on the way to school. 2. A cruiser rushes to school. 3. ADRIANNE LAWSON uses Lakewood's most common form of transportation. 4. CHARLES RICE attempts to avoid a tardy by sneaking by MR. MEDNICK. 5. DANNY MOSTAJO orders MR. SHAVER to class. 6. KRISSY HOFFMAN makes extra money by selling submarine sandwiches after school. 7. Football players got first-hand experience in physical fitness. 8. The Centralia "500" was a real rat-race. 9. MR. DUNPHY explains the county jail system to JAY BOEHMER. 10. BRIAN FARBER had the most fun at lunch. 11. PAT RIES and his friends go surfing in the early morning.

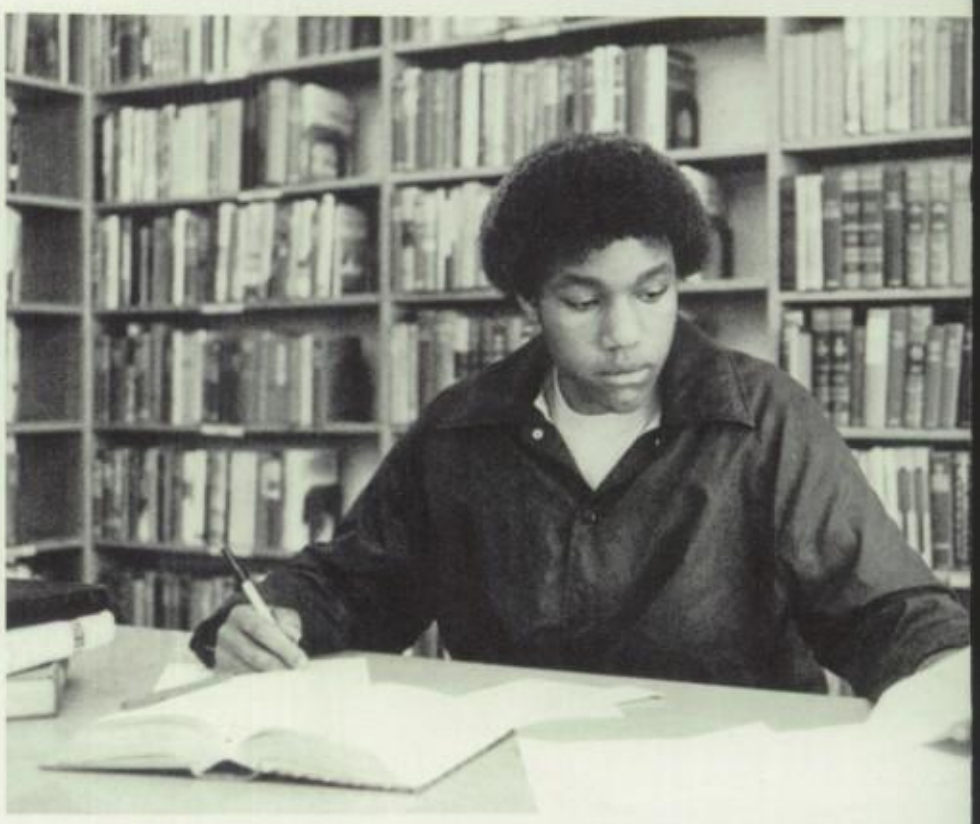
ACHIEVING

Getting to where you wanted to go in life was an exciting task for Lakewood students. Receiving that diploma after three years of hard work was the first and main concern of all Lancers. Good grades were a mark of accomplishment and were usually associated with regular attendance. Off-campus opportunities such as PACE and Performing Arts added to the curriculum of the school. Many ESL students had a double goal; they learned not only academic subjects, but a new language as well. Goals varied for students. Some wanted to be the best in sports or music, while others concentrated on art or industrial projects. Career and college preparation were available to every student and were the primary goals to be achieved.



1. MIKE MATHIS discovered that long hours spent in the library were rewarded with good grades. 2. IP TAM makes great progress in learning English with a little help from Webster's. 3. SHAWN RUNYAN works hard at achieving his ultimate goal. 4. RONALD CLARK learns about the "tough grind" from MR. STOBBE. 5. MR. CRAMOND shows great excitement as LYDY PHLONG discovers the solution to the Rubik Cube. 6. TAMMY LEWIS proudly displays the results of her long hours of homework. 7. DAN JOHNSTON is more than satisfied with his drafting project. 8. DWAYNE shows why he is known as "ORBIT CORBITT."

Chris, it was real nice having you in one of my classes. Maybe we'll have one together next year. Take care over the summer.
With Love,

COUPLES

One of the best experiences at Lakewood was meeting that "special someone." Lancer couples attending sporting events, dances, movies, restaurants, or community activities were easily recognized by a letterman's jacket or an oversized ring hanging from a chain. Sometimes a bouquet was sent to make that anniversary special. Shared memories may have stemmed from an essay to be written or a certain photography assignment, or something more complex, like deciding what to wear to the prom. Even as present couples share their good times together, some highschool sweethearts are married and have children attending their alma mater, LHS.

1. The 1982 Senior Couple is GREG LOPEZ and CAROLYN SOTH. 2. DEAN WHITTEN gives SALLY WILLIAMS a piggyback ride. 3. ERIC CHRISTENSEN and CINDY WILDT celebrate an anniversary with the best gifts possible. 4. MARGARET PIMENTAL and JOEY MEJIA spend a Saturday afternoon horseback riding. 5. KARL WARD and JOELLYN JAMES sometimes had disagreements. 6. LEONARD KENYON and MARTY GRAVES share a Coke at snack. 6. PAT HOOKS and KATHY JOHNSON try to get the kite up. 8. MIKE ROBERTSON and PAULA JOHNSON prepare for "Raiders of the Lost Ark." 9. Some lunchtime laughs are shared by MARK GOLDSMITH and KIM WOODWARD.

WORKING AS ONE

8

11

With the attitude that working together on a project gets the job done faster, Lancers helped each other to achieve accomplishments that would have been impossible otherwise. The extra time taken by a teacher to help a student with a special assignment was greatly appreciated. Homecoming floats and booths needed many hands to make them successful. That extra assist in the final Moore League baseball game meant the league championship. Studying with a friend for a political behavior test helped boost the scores. Groups such as the band, orchestra, cabinet, journalism, drama and team sports shared the idea that teamwork was the best way to get the job done.

1. KIM JONES grabs a free ride from KARA BLACK. 2. DARRELL VANDENBOSCH and MR. HOUGHTON squeeze out the solution. 3. Classroom delivery of supplies was accomplished by LAURI REYNOLDS and ROBIN RIBYA. 4. DAVID GOLDBERG gets his "higher education" with the help of FRED CARTER. 5. MR. RUTHERFORD spends some extra time helping MARK BOLLA. 6. DAVE GEORGE learned that teamwork did not always guarantee a victory. 7. THERESA WHITTLINGER is amused by MR. KURTH'S discovery that TOM WELD is five dollars short. 8. LINDA BERGMAN and J.J. MATSEN take a study break from their M & M's. 9. ANNE NISHIKAWA and MR. MULLEN "hang up" the Tarbabes. 10. GREG SUMNER and DANNY HASTINGS prepare props for the spring musical. 11. JOE HERNANDEZ gives MR. HAMILTON a helping hand. 12. VINCE LAVELLO holds on while BRIAN DALTON does the tough work.

LANCER SPIRIT

No school displayed as much spirit as Lakewood High School did in 1982. The celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary was an added incentive for the yell leaders to out-cheer other schools, for stage crew to reach new heights in scenery and decorative projects, for the band to wail and add new music, for the pepsters to out-perform anything done in the past, and for the entire school to make new traditions as well as remembering old ones. Color days were more significant with the red and white being worn by almost everyone on these special days. Spirit rooters, #1 hands, a variety of special ribbons, staff shirts and the new school flag all boosted Lancer spirit. Lakewood was the "Spirit of '82!"

1. The VARSITY YELL SQUAD were the epitome of the Lakewood tradition of togetherness. 2. MR. MULLEN and cabinet members had the spirit. 3. MIKE PEIVAC drummed away to the sounds of '82. 4. CHRIS D'AMORE and stage crew take a well-deserved break after a morning rally. 5. The Medallion Diploma was the most important Lancer tradition. 6. Class rings displayed pride in LHS. 7. The ROTC DRILL TEAM performed in many events. 8. The LANCER shows what he thinks of a Wilson Bruin. 9. ANDREA GLYNN shows great ability as a baton twirler.

Have a great Summer don't get in to much trouble- March

The LHS campus was the place to meet new people and establish lasting relationships. Whether it was through sports, classroom situations, clubs or just a chance meeting at snack, many priceless friendships were established throughout the year. Many students discovered that administrators, counselors and teachers were true friends and cared about their progress. Homecoming was a time when Lancers became re-acquainted with one another. Graduation walking partners will never be forgotten. That special boyfriend or girlfriend and the happy memories they shared will be constant treasures. The open feeling of campus life made making friends easy; these relationships blossomed into the most cherished possessions of every Lancer.

1. MRS. OTTO shows KEITH WOMACK a map of the CSULB campus for career day. 2. MARK ARMENDARIZ and his friends were hanging loose. 3. DARYL MC CLOUD shares a conversation with a friend between classes. 4. MR. EISENBERGER registers disbelief at MR. KREB'S hair-growing ability. 5. MRS. CLEAVER and MR. HAMILTON share some bookroom humor. 6. KATHY CHASE and MRS. PATTERSON work closely with each other. 7. TOD MURPHY hits a "low five" with KENNY DAVID'S "high five." 8. JEFF SMITH grudgingly gives in to STEPHANIE MERYS' traditionalism.

Dressing with style was back in fashion at LHS in 1982. The casual look of the past gave way to a dressier look. Styles underwent some great changes as dancewear became common, western movies brought out the urban cowboy in some Lancers, and punk rock or new wave music influenced the return of mini-skirts, headbands and army fatigues. The collegiate look was also popular as many students went all-out to look preppy.

1. SUSAN LYDON, KATHY GRANT and CORY GARY model their knickers. 2. A wide variety of shorts are worn at LHS. 3. BRUCE DENNISTON is well-hidden with his camoflague look. 4. ROXANNE GISSEL, EUGENE LUJAN, JANET ZIMMERMAN and DANNY SPEAR were the ultimate campus preppies. 5. JIM THOMPSON and RICH BERGER go formal in new wave styles. 6. PAT MALLORY, ROBIN SMITH, DEBBIE ROSS, HEATHER HASTINGS and BRAD DAVIS project the punk look. 7. Different "brand" shirts were popular. 8. These shoes were made for style. 9. MICHELLE BOWERS, CARRIE MALECK, KHRISTY RICHARDS and DONNA GIDDEN prove that leg-warmers could be worn with anything. 10. Headbands looked good on DIANE STEWART, KARA BLACK and JILL ENRIQUEZ. 11. MICHAEL ANN ARCE, DEBBIE COLTICE and CHRISTY TURREY looked great in their mini-skirts.

PERFORMING

Involvement in performances gave Lancers many memorable and exciting times during the entire school year. Pepsters encouraged participation at sporting events, the band reached an all-time high in half-time shows and concerts, the orchestra gave the best Christmas concert in memory, and the Silver Lute Singers really wowed everyone with their vocal magic. The drama department's presentation of "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" made usually dull January a month to remember. The production of "Camelot", the school musical, was the crowning achievement of the excellent performances given at Lakewood this year.

1. LAURIE SEMON spikes one past the Jordan defense. 2. The Silver Lute Singers perform at back-to-school night. 3. Morning rallies were a new experience at Lakewood High School. 4. ROBIN MC LANE and LISA JUSTICE concentrate on practicing for an orchestra concert. 5. Secretary of Activities ANDREA PAUL encourages the crowd. 6. CAROL PINDER performs a tough set of doubles. 7. MR. GARSKE snaps along with the band. 8. Point those toes, dance!

Lancer creativity was shown in many different forms. Posters advertising upcoming events expressed fun and unique messages. Arts and crafts students seemed to have an unlimited ability to develop interesting projects, including many colorful campus displays. Creative writers found their ways to special classes and to the LANCE staff. Shop students turned out fantastic projects that will provide years of pleasure. Advanced photographers expressed their knowledge by using special techniques which enhanced their pictures. A variety of skills was learned and led to the many creative endeavors throughout the year.

1. BRIAN WALKER shows his creativity in the bicycle repair shop. 2. BILL GEORGES had an unusual writing instrument. 3. MR. PATTEN explains electronics to DOUG GISSELL. 4. TOM LAO begins his take-off. 5. JOHN MARKWITH and ROBIN WILLIAMS rush to meet a LANCE deadline. 6. A bisector was no problem for ROBIN DAVIS. 7. Clay sculpturing was a breeze with MR. SCHOONOVER'S help. 8. DORENE FILLIUS sketches a landscape in front of the auditorium. 9. SCOTT CHRISTENSEN smooths the edge of his project in woodshop.

Life with a capital "L" was really worth living if a person were a Lancer. The gusto with which students participated in the yearlong process of learning and the celebration of numerous anniversary events was evident everywhere. From the first day of school in the registration sections until the last tear had dried after graduation, Lancer involvement in life and spirit was unique among schools. Amongst the piles of homework and books could be found a tattered copy of the LANCE or a spirit ribbon. Teachers and students could sincerely boast that there was no better place to live the high school life.

1. DAVE ANDAZOLA and RANDY JONES have trouble deciding on a sport. 2. JOE COLBERT momentarily sits in for the teacher. 3. COACH STONER shows his knack for flipping pancakes. 4. COACH CHANDLER displays how to stay down on a ground ball. 5. BECKY BARNDT and SHELLY BLISS wonder if the food can really be that bad. 6. Power volleyball is an important part of Lancer life. 7. JOE HERNANDEZ defies the laws of gravity. 8. Many Lancers use the "extra car" to get to school.

THE 1982

What was so special about 1982? What were the fads and trends that set this year apart from others? The hours spent trying to unscramble a Rubik's cube were pacifying moments. Beating Millikan in the PTA contest was important, but cashing in the PTA coupon at McDonald's was more fun. Motorcycles were popular school transportation, and taking time to polish that customized truck was satisfying. Personalized license plates showed the goals of some. Walkmans and rollerskates seemed to be a natural combination. Gasoline prices encouraged the use of smaller cars. Graduation ceremonies were held on a new platform. And Lancers were part of the trendsetters that made 1982 unique.

1. JOHN ARCE represents the Year of the Disabled by interpreting through sign language. 2. MATT PAUL returns his PTA coupon for a free McDonald's hamburger. 3. KEVIN WESTFALL plays one of the numerous electronic games. 4. BRIAN HARRIS believes sub-compact cars aren't for everyone. 5. PHIL GEIER becomes airborne during a race. 6. KEN GIDLEY has a problem deciding which Rubik he'll solve next. 7. TODD MURRAY polishes his mean black machine. 8. In keeping with current styles, RICK BLAZER and MARK NIELSEN have personalized license plates. 9. A "bone phone" was helpful for LISA ANDERSON while studying.

Many Lancers used pent-up energy not used in PE on those two special occasions, weekends and vacations. Some "headed for the hills" and tried their skiing skills, while others "went West" to the shores of Hawaii and attempted to find the perfect wave. Locally, Lancers spent many hours behind the wheels of racing cars or riding motorcycles on the desert flats. A fortunate few got to travel abroad and find out about the world's cultures. No matter where it was, if there were thrills and excitement to be had there were Lancers having them.

1. PETE COOLEY isn't sure he made the right decision when he entered the watermellon eating contest. 2. ANDREA PAUL and DAVE POWERS discover the thrills of cliff-diving off the California coast. 3. ANN-ELIZABETH NEWTON finds some cultural differences during her AFS exchange. 4. MARC MARMION, a member of Team Suzuki, won the 500cc motocross championship at Oceanside. 5. SUSAN LYDON shoots the spray on the Colorado River. 6. DAVE GEORGE burns around the bend to a first-place finish on his three-wheeler. 7. TRACY BLAKE shows a shaky surfing form while learning the sport in Hawaii.

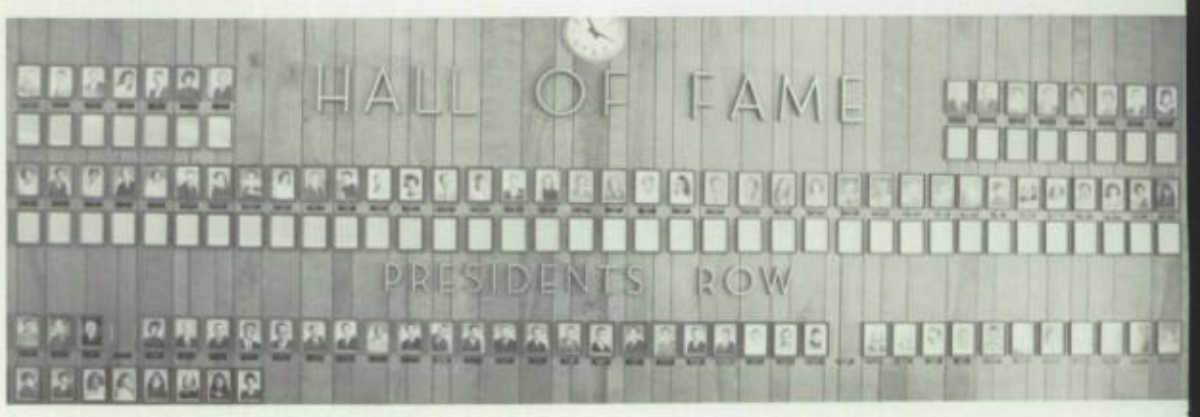
A LHS History

The City of Lakewood rose out of bean-fields and dairy farms in the early 1950s and was incorporated in 1954. At that time, students living in Lakewood attended Wilson, Millikan and Jordan high schools. Homes continued spring-ing up in Lakewood at an amazing rate; over fifty new houses were begun each day. It soon became evident that another high school would be needed. The 32 acre side bordered by Briercrest, Centra-lia, Lomina and Harvey Way was selected and the construction contract was awarded to the Gust K. Newberg Construction Company of Chicago on January 30, 1956. The first school year at Lakewood began on September 16, 1957, although construction was not completed until November 8 of the same year. Thinking back to that first year, Dr. Verne Hinze, Lakewood's first principal recalled, "We had four bushel baskets of keys to sort and distribute. It was like a big hotel or small city." However, with much patience and ingenuity, the chaos gradually gave way to order, and LHS got down to the business of education. Everyone was excited about the new school. With its 2 gyms, 2 swimming pools, 62 regular classrooms, 42 special-classrooms and six large multi-purpose rooms, LHS was one of the country's most modern schools. The 1,770 stu-dents who enrolled that first fall showed their pride by immediately taking an ac-tive part in shaping the future of their school. An Interim Council chose the red and white colors and organized the first elections, after which it disbanded and the first cabinet took over. Members of the class of '58 narrowed down the mascot choices to a buffalo, cowboy or the Lancer, the latter chosen because it was the most powerful symbol of LHS pride. Bill Will's 1963 entry in the theme contest resulted in the motto, "Today's Lancers, Tomorrow's Leaders."



1. Lakewood's 1,788 seat auditorium has been the site of many memorable musicals, concerts, plays and assemblies. 2. The Hall of Fame depicts the boy and girl who have given outstanding service to the school. 3. The construction of the library and administration buildings was dedicated to truth, liberty and toleration. 4. The shields are a symbol of the pride felt by every graduating class. 5. The school's celebration of the Bicentennial will be remembered by the mural Mr. Ryan's students created. 6. The original quad was dramatically changed by the 1965 addition of the 900 building. 7. The Board of Education was presented a plaque commemorating the twenty-fifth anniversary. 8. Excellence in education has enabled many Lancers to live up to the school motto. 9. The anniversary logo represents Lakewood's twenty-five years. 10. The hub of Lakewood business life was changed in 1979 when Lakewood Center was enclosed and became a mall. 11. The 1967 mosaic shows why the Lancer was chosen as the mascot.

Yesterdays

Many things changed for Lakewood students over the past quarter century, yet many things remained the same. Enrollment in 1957 was 1,770 students, but by 1964 the number had ballooned to 3,897. To accommodate the increased population, the 900 building was constructed in 1965. Though the original plans called for additional classrooms to be built under the 900 building, it never became necessary. In the '82 school year the number of Lancers stood at 2,692 and the total staff was 159. The typical Lakewood home was basically the same after twenty-five years, although pink and turquoise stucco were no longer the "in" colors. The number in a typical Lakewood family shrunk from six to four. Speaking of shrinking, a 1957 dollar would purchase about 25¢ worth of food, clothing or gasoline twenty-five years later. A part-time job, which had always been popular with industrious Lancers, was almost a necessity in 1982. Hangouts changed from drive-ins, such as Hody's and Hart's, to fast-food emporiums like McDonald's and pizza parlors such as Zeppo's. The world also underwent serious changes. The quiet 50s gave way to the Vietnam War and student unrest in the 1960s. Styles and recreation forms changed as well, with long hair for boys and campers becoming increasingly popular. A series of recessions also led to economic problems for Lakewood and the nation. Crime mushroomed far beyond the wildest expectations of Americans. The space age allowed Americans to feel more patriotic about their country, even as the first President in history had to resign. Although there were few constants, Lakewood High School continued to provide excellence in education to its students.

1. An early street excavation on Harvey Way shows Lakewood homes under construction. 2. RAY SCOTT (Class of '61) and his son, MIKE CREIGHTON (Class of '84) share some sun on the steps of their typical Lakewood tract home. 3. HOWARD BOYD (Class of '61) and son SCOTT BOYD (Class of '82) proudly display one of the best "rides" of the 50s, their 1955 Thunderbird. 4. The first Lakewood volunteer fire department was a major achievement for the community. 5. These headlines and facts depict the changes in LHS and the world in the last twenty-five years. 6. The effects of inflation are shown by the increase in prices. 7. Zeppo's became the hang-out of the '80s. 8. Hody's, now the site of La Fiesta, was the original Lancer "in" spot.

The Way We Were

Even though "stagflation" made leisure activities and leisure time more expensive, Lancers still found plenty of things to do and enough free time in which to do them. Some favorite pastimes of former years, such as surfing, trampolining and playing frisbee were still popular, while others like goldfish swallowing and hoola hooping did not enjoy continued popularity. Cars were an expensive, but fun and practical investments, even though the Class of '82 had to pay about a dollar a gallon more for gasoline than the class of '57 paid. Fashions changed rapidly but, as always, the favorite with LHS students was a comfortable pair of Levi's. Hair styles for guys had gone from short to long and back to short again, while for girls it was curls to straight to somewhere in between. The weekends were always a favorite; they were a time for music, a trip to the beach, relaxation, meeting friends, or just sleeping in.

Past and Present

In its twenty-five year history, Lakewood has established many traditions, and has seen innovation and change in its programs as well. Stability has been the key to success for the LHS staff; only three principals have served the school: Vernon A. Hinze (1957-1962), Harold I. Judson (1962-1979), and Helen Z. Hansen (1979-present). Eight faculty members and one staff member boast of twenty-five years tenure. Over the years, enrollment grew from 1,770 in 1957 to a peak of 3,897 in 1965, when three assemblies were needed to fit everyone into the auditorium. As the number of students and their needs changed, so did the programs. The Cadre Nine program, a magnet offering for 100 ninth graders, was initiated in 1979. English as a Second Language program was begun in 1980 in response to the needs of Southeast Asian and Latino students. Other changes included the 1967 decision to change from the All-Night Dance to Grad Night at Disneyland. The LANCE and Citadel, both All-American publications, continued to offer Lancers fine reporting. As the years passed, the community of Lakewood remained stable; many early graduates now have children attending the school. Changes in movies, songs, television programs and books reflected the many changes in the world around Lakewood. One thing that the years did not change was the pride that every Lancer felt for his school; "Big Red Country" and its reputation for providing excellent education ranged far and wide.

Red Rage Continues

Lancer spirit became a legend throughout the southland, and that winning spirit grew during the past twenty-five years as LHS strove to establish itself as a powerful intervarsity contender. In the beginning, it wasn't always an easy struggle. In Lakewood's first football game in 1957, the LHS team kicked off to a fired-up Pomona, who made the first of many touchdowns scored against the Lancers in those first few years of play. There was no homecoming that first fall because there was no one to come back, but Lakewood pride was growing. The Lancer was selected as the mascot because it was a powerful symbol of Lakewood's winning spirit. The victory bell has heralded many Big Red victories since 1964, when it was donated by Socii. The stadium, once again the site of home games, was rebuilt after a 1969 fire; it proclaimed that this was "Big Red Country." Each year, Lancers who gathered for the Homecoming Assembly hailed Lakewood High School with a rousing chorus of the Alma Mater, written by former band director John Swanson. The words spelled out the special spirit that was, and always will be, Lakewood High School.

ALMA MATER

Hail Lakewood High School
Hear now our song
Fair Alma Mater
Faithful and Strong
We'll always praise thee
Who ne'er can fail
So hail to our high school
Lakewood High, all hail.

Our colors glorious
The red and white
Ever victorious
We'll show our might
Thy sons and daughters
E'er will be true
To thee, Alma Mater
True for aye and you.

And to our high school
When we depart
We'll always keep thee
Close to our heart
Though we must leave thee
It's with a sigh
For we'll always love thee
Our dear Lakewood High.

Cabinet

Student government at Lakewood High School is a participatory affair; the students run for office, are elected by fellow pupils and make far-reaching decisions through the democratic process. The 1981-82 cabinet was a most active one. Not only did they pass on routine matters such as approval of clubs and budgets, but they were the single most responsible group for the successes of rallies, homecoming, the winter dance and the prom. An added responsibility this year was that of helping co-ordinate and carry out the activities associated with the school's celebration of its twenty-fifth anniversary. The leadership of Activities Specialist Jim Mullen was instrumental in providing the support and direction that enabled this cabinet to accomplish so much. The officers who did such a great deal to help the school can justly pride themselves on a job well done.

Vocal Music

Finely-tuned Lancer voices emanated from the choral room throughout the year. Everything from classical to rock 'n' roll music was sung by the three classes in vocal music. Mr. Schmitt, a well-deserving recipient of the coveted Golden Apple Award for teaching excellence, directed the groups in many outstanding performances. Back-to-School night was more fun because of the songs performed by the Madrigals. A special presentation by the Board of Education was highlighted by three musical numbers sung by the Silver Lute Singers. The Christmas program presented by the A Cappella Choir, Cecelian Singers, and Silver Lute Singers made the holiday season even more joyous. Colorful costumes, "olde English" cuisine, and harmonious voices made the Medieval Feaste one of the brightest events of the year. The capstone of all of the vocal achievements was the combined efforts of all of the singers in the highly successful presentation of the spring musical,"Camelot".

Ye Olde Medieval Feaste

The third season of merriment and madness known as Ye Olde Medieval Feaste was presented by the Silver Lute Singers in December to four sellout audiences. This traditional celebration of the holiday season featured a five-course dinner complete with "steaming wassail" and "flaming figgy pudding", as well as entertainment provided by jugglers, dancers and music from the minstrels' gallery. An added attraction this year was the entrance; a "drawbridge" over the moat provided access to the stage where the feaste was held. The feaste, now a tradition at Lakewood High School, has been the pet project of the Silver Lute Singers and their excellent director, Mr. Willard Schmitt. Outstanding renditions of traditional and original music of the season made the memorable evening complete.

Band

The Lakewood Lancer Marching Band gave the best performances in its history in 1982. Under the expert guidance of a new band director, Mr. Dan Garske, the instruments became a solid means of expression for eighty-six talented musicians. The addition of new songs and half-time shows were combined with exciting concerts and rallies to elevate Lancer enthusiasm to new highs. As the brass blared and the drums rolled, every Lancer was proud of the 1982 band.

Pep Groups

A large contingent of Lancers has kept the great tradition of Lakewood spirit at the highest level. Pep groups, including cheerleaders, song girls, flag girls, majorettes, Lancerettes and Bannerettes have always added that special sparkle that makes LHS unique. Characteristics of these groups are the loss of voices, aching muscles, paintmarks from posters, armfuls of goodies for secrets and red and white uniforms. These pep groups play a major role in support of the various teams and are the root from which all school spirit grows.

The Queen and Her Court

The twenty-fifth anniversary theme of a "Medieval Fair" provided Lancers with a feudalistic atmosphere as Lancer spirit and homecoming week reached the pinnacle with the crowning of the queen and her court. The tension rose as "Sir Touchdown" Mike Tereschuk, students and alumni awaited the crowning of the Queen. A hush fell over the crowd as Mr. Mullen took a last breath of anticipation before announcing the 1981 Homecoming Queen, Andrea Paul. A startled Andrea joined her court of Senior Princesses Barbara Goldman and Rochelle Miller, Junior Princess Patty Brooks, and Sophomore Princess Chrissie Kaveney.

Homecoming Week

Homecoming week was filled with excitement and spirit as the Landers took part in activities planned by the Student Council. Monday saw the week begin with a bang-up stunt, the hamburger eating contest. Tuesday was the day when Lancers dressed like the 1957 styles, which included rolled up Levis, bobby sox, pedal pushers, skirts, angora sweaters and black patent leather shoes. The Wednesday banana stuffing contest let students realize the difficulty of eating so much food so fast. A special Lakewood alumni night was held a Chuck E. Cheese's pizza parlor. This was a great event at which alumni, students and faculty gathered to eat and play video games. Afterwards, float touch-ups were made and the big day was at hand. The celebration of the school's anniversary was combined with the homecoming to make a great celebration with the "Medieval Fair" theme. This was the best homecoming in the history of the school.

Orchestra

To hear the cacophony during their warm-up, no one would believe how harmonious the orchestra could actually be. The group seemed to improve with each performance; such outstanding musicians as lead violinist Joe Leonard, cellist Tim Stout and oboist Bill Ramsell led the orchestra to great achievements. Fine performances have always been the hallmark of the Lakewood orchestra and the participation of so many fine musicians kept that tradition alive in 1982. Director Daniel Garske was able to inspire the students so that each one gave his all in every number. Audiences were especially impressed by the concerts, the Christmas program and the spring musical.

CAMELOT

KING ARTHUR

GUENEVERE

Camelot

From the opening brass fanfare of the overture, Camelot transported the audience to a magnificent world of beautiful maidens, heroic men, magical spells and chivalrous deeds. Lakewood's musical was characterized by beautiful music, pageantry, gorgeous costumes and spectacular scenery all organized around a theme that has fascinated mankind for ages: the love of a woman, Guenevere, for her husband, Arthur, and her conflicting affection for Lancelot. It was witty and serious, and in its final moments it gave legendary meaning to an era:
"Don't let it be forgot
That once there was a spot
For one brief shining moment
That was known as Camelot."

1. The Lakewood Camelot Cast. 2. Arthur exclaims, "But I am King Arthur!" 3. Morgan Le Fey traps Arthur with the invisible wall. 4. Guenevere and Arthur sing, "What do simple folk do?" 5. Guenevere meets Lancelot's gaze and falls in love. 6. Sir Lionel and Sir Dinadan await the arrival of Guenevere. 7. Mordred sings of the seven deadly virtues. 8. Nimue casts her spell on Merlyn. 9. Arthur urges Tom to go behind the lines and spread the word of Camelot to all.

"A Connecticut Yankee In King Arthur's Court"

The Lakewood drama department presented Mark Twain's famous comedy, "A Connecticut Yankee In King Arthur's Court", to very enthusiastic audiences. In this dramatization, the Yankee (Terry McDonald) was a young engineer just out of college and anxious to try his hand at every kind of mechanical device. He was knocked cold by one of his experiments and woke up to find himself in the Court of King Arthur (John Arce). From then on, the striking contrasts between the old and the new developed into a series of ludicrous events. Television, radio, aviation, football and even the corner drugstore found their way into Arthur's kingdom. The young engineer eventually found himself in conflict with the evil Morgan Le Fay (Lianne Newell). All ended well, however, when the young Yankee was reunited with his Camelot friends and his lady love. The bravo performances of the entire Lancer cast made this an event to remember.

NJROTC

Under the skillful leadership of Lt/ CMDR Johnson and Chief Petty Officer Leroy Borchardt, the 1981-82 NJROTC Unit accomplished many feats, won many prizes and gave a great deal of information to those who were fortunate enough to enroll in the program. The prime objective was to establish commendable citizenship standards, high leadership goals, moral responsibilities, develop a firm appreciation for our country and to learn the mission and organization of the U.S. Navy. One of the opportunities that awaited a select number of cadets was being chosen for the Drill Team. This elite group has garnered numerous awards in the many competitions which it enters. The NJROTC classes provided a unique learning experience for the Lancers involved in it.

1. The NJROTC Officer Corps spent many extra hours planning for the entire battalion. 2. The much-decorated DRILL TEAM was successful in winning a great number of prizes in the various competitions it entered this year. 3. The NJROTC BATTALION was composed of many fine students who desired to participate in the outstanding program. 4. Three NJROTC Cadets are taught the art of using flags during a class on semaphores. 5. MATT CLARK and JEFF PYOTT seemed intrigued by the guidance mechanism of a destroyer. 6. LT/COMMANDER JOHNSON and CPO BORCHARDT were constantly working to make their Unit the best in the area. 7. MEL BURGOS and WILLIAM WOLFROM learn the intricacies of the flight deck of an aircraft carrier. 8. MARY SANDOVAL charts the course for BRUCE BARTOW.

LANCE

The LANCE staff continued its twenty-five year tradition of creative reporting, coverage of campus events and excellence in journalism. This year's staff was a finely tuned team that displayed remarkable writing abilities. Special features on sports, student automobiles, classroom activities and local happenings made the LANCE an eagerly awaited arrival in most classrooms. The staff worked hard to churn out the regular nine issues plus one of the finest club editions in memory. Deadlines were always met, even if they sometimes made a monster out of veteran advisor Gene "The Iron Fist" Genisauski. Even with the dreaded deadlines, paste-ups and printing, the class ran smoothly and could be proud of every edition.

1. Editor VANESSA RAZO and MR. GENISAUSKI are shocked at the score of the last game. 2. ROBIN WILLIAMS and JON KALWARA were LANCE photographers. 3. The 1981-82 LANCE Staff. 4. MARK "WARREN PEACE" WARREN and JIM KRUG were copyreaders. 5. Page editors included LIZ MOORE, JANET ZIMMERMAN and DANA ROGERS. 6. LANCE members were always good for a laugh. 7. JOHN "CUBBIE" MARKWITH dreams of the day when he's editor.

Citadel

Led by editors Rick Harpham, Andrea Paul, Patrick Ries and Colleen Thacker, the members of the Citadel class had a great time assembling the twenty-fifth anniversary edition of the yearbook. The rookies learned the many forms of layouts, how to crop pictures, the grueling task of copywriting and how to draw a "semi-straight" line with a ruler. Deadlines placed special burdens upon the staff and were the busiest times of the year. However, quality was never sacrificed for the sake of getting a page ready for the publisher. The staff learned to appreciate all of the Lancers who helped with the book, especially the coaches, teachers and activities office. Whether it was numbering pictures, drawing preliminaries or reading the final proofs, there always seemed to be plenty to do. Although many members of the staff were "kick back" artists, they produced a book of which the school could be proud.

1. The Citadel editors, PAT RIES, ANDREA PAUL, COLLEEN THACKER and RICK HARPHAM, worked at different levels. 2. JIM FOGG and TRACY BLAKE share a perpetual moment of relaxation. 3. "Woody" goes insane after a year with a bunch of crazies. 4. DANA ROGERS, ROBIN WILLIAMS, MARK NIELSEN and RICH TORRES get to work on the sports section. 5. CHRISSIE KAVENEY and SCOTT LAING overload BILLY FIX with work. 6. SHANNON O'NEIL and DARYL LAVITT finish an academic quad-pac. 7. PAT RIES writes copy for the opening section. 8. SUE STRIEWIG and BRIAN GRIEVING argue with CHRISTA TIERNY and TOM WELD over which pictures to use. 9. DAVE ANDAZOLA isn't sure he understands CRYSTAL BOWER'S joke. 10. RON ROEBUCK and RICK BLAZER were among the staff's most eager workers. 11. COLLEEN THACKER and ANDREA PAUL work out picture schedules.

Winter Formal

One of the most outstanding social events of the year proved to be the Winter Formal. The dance was held in the elegant ballroom of the Los Amigos Country Club. The semi-formal affair attracted two hundred and fifty couples who really "dressed up" for the occasion. However, the dressy attire did not dampen the dancers' spirits. The great musical sounds of PHAUX provided couples with a memorable night of dancing. Such recent rock hits as "Destroyer", "Ant Music", "All of My Love" and "Start Me Up" were included in their performance. The fun-filled evening of the Silver Spectacular was the perfect way to celebrate the school's anniversary.

1. Slow dances gave couples such as GLEN HARLESS and CHERYL HANNS and DAVID VITWAR and ANNIE NISHIKAWA a time to get closer. 2. CAROL DYE and JAMES CORBITT take a breather between dances. 3. BECKI BARNDT and TIM VAN SCOY enjoyed themselves on and off the floor. 4. BLAINE LARKER and CHRISSIE KAVENEY share a quiet moment. 5. Couples never stopped dancing to the music of PHAUX. 6. COLLEEN THACKER and JEFF DAVIS dance to the beat. 7. Lead singer, MARK MANCHESTER, kept everyone rockin' through the night. 8. STEVE JUDD and PATTY BROOKS share the company of close friends. 9. MARK RIGGS motions for the waiter to bring more soft drinks. 10. GREG LOPEZ, CAROLYN SOTH, ANDREA GLYNN and JON AUSLAND live it up at the Silver Spectacular.

Varsity Football

Although the 1981 varsity football squad suffered one of the worst records in recent years, they maintained high standards and played the game with zest. The loss of several key players had an enormous effect on the outcome of several games. The starters were nearly all returning lettermen and the team was led by standouts like Kelly McFarlane, Alec Price and Stan Grebeck. Even though the season records were poor, outstanding plays, especially in the homecoming match against Poly, kept the fans hoping that things would turn around. Forced to the aerial game in many situations, the passing talents of quarterbacks Mike Tereschuk and Kevin McLean were put to the test. The highlight of the season, after a series of near wins, was the victory in the final game against Jordan. Coaches Bresnahan, Arbogast, Hennigan and Miltenberger predicted a better year for 1982.

JV Sophomore Football

The junior varsity football team turned in a very respectable year, finishing high in the Moore League standings. Led by quarterback Keith Womack, who connected often to standout receiver Phil Geier, the squad was victorious over many teams. Guy Brown, Jeff Smith, Kevin Sampson and the Freeland brothers put forth plenty of effort to make opponents work for every yard. The defense was particularly strong and held back the enemy with style. Coaches Miltenberger and Arbogast spent long hours training the jv's in the fundamentals of the game. The sophomore team had an outstanding season and were co-champions of the Moore League. Their 6-3 record reflected the excellence they displayed throughout the season. Quarterback Marty Galvan, John Salazar and Jeff Nielsen were great assets to the team. The entire squad sparked great enthusiasm under the outstanding guidance of Coach Melvin.

Varsity Wrestling

Through a marvelous display of stamina, endurance and skill, the Lancer wrestling team finished a very respectable second in Moore League competition. Team captain Jeff Venanzi led the squad to numerous pins and was aided in the team effort by Scott Lawrence, Ron Peterson and Chris Compton. The 3-1 record reflected the long hours of practice and outstanding coaching of Coaches Lyman and Jurgensen. The junior varsity also turned in a great season; with superb grapplers like George Hayes, Brian Farber and Adam Theil, how could they miss? This team won the league championship and showed great form and style throughout the season. The most exciting match of recent times was the victory over arch-rival Millikan. With many returning lettermen, the squad promises to be even stronger in the coming years.

Track

One of the most demanding sports at Lakewood High School has been track and field events. Since its introduction by olympians hundreds of years ago, track has remained a hard-driving sport requiring remarkable endurance. Serious track runners become fully committed during their training program and this committment leads to success on meet days. There was no exception to this rule at LHS during its silver anniversary year. Members of the track teams competed in various events, such as distance running, relays, sprints, the pole vault, hurdles and shot put. The boys' teams were coached by that confidence-building duo, John Hennigan and Bill Meyer. The girls worked under the experienced supervision of former Olympic Gold Medal winner Joan Lind. This coaching excellence paid handsome dividends as both teams turned in excellent performances during the season. Pat Hooks, Scott Williams, Jeff Jorgensen, Rich Graves and Pete Cooley were among the outstanding boy athletes. The girls also boasted excellent talent, which included Linda Williams, Valerie Choy, Bev Pettit and Kathy Johnson.

JV Basketball

The junior varsity basketball team, under the direction of first-year coach Chuck Stoner, proved to be a strong contender for the Moore League crown. The Lancers were led by floor generals Leonard Oglesby and Leroy Saafir, the rebounding of Dave Vitwar, and the overall play of Andre LeBeauf. A team plagued by injuries, the reserves filled in well. Sophomore guard John Salazar and junior forward Thad Southall kept the Lancer's winning hopes alive. This year's sophomore and sophomore reserve teams, with veteran Coach Krebs at the helm, struggled through tough seasons. The soph stars were led by the aggressive play of Jim Hainly and Steve Sears. The reserves counted upon the consistent play of Keith Cooley, Young Yang and Mike Youngsma. All three teams could and did provide exciting play throughout the season.

Girls' Varsity Basketball

The girls' varsity basketball team gave fans all of the excitement they could handle. Their excellent execution of this fast-paced sport led them to third place in Moore League, compiling a 6-4 season record and beating Jordan for a CIF berth. Helping the Lancers to win many of their victories was the unbeatable combination of Jill Wells, a 5′11″ sophomore and Tina Babi, a 5′8″ senior, which scored most of the team's points. The other half of the quartet was Tracy Blake, a 6′ senior, and Tracy Fauber, a 5′11″ junior, who pulled down many awesome rebounds. Coach Bresnahan could certainly be proud of his team. The girls' JV team placed fourth in the Moore League, finishing the season with a 4-6 record. Janet Ingram, a sophomore, led in the scoring department by averaging an unbelievable 19.6 points per game. Coach Gephart taught the fundamentals to the future varsity players.

Varsity Baseball

Power and finesse were epitomized by the 1982 varsity baseball team. The well-rounded and confident Lancer club showed excellent pre-season form. Lightning-quick Mike Moore stole home against a stunned Marina team which fell to a 4-2 defeat. St. John Bosco realized how formidable Rick Harpham's bat was as he drove a home run over the center field fence. Ace southpaw Ron "the Robes" Roebuck had the right stuff as he struck out twelve to beat always tough Rolling Hills. An impressive 6-2 victory over defending CIF champion Westminster highlighted a fine pre-season, but was only an indication of the great baseball to follow. In one of the outstanding pitching duels ever witnessed in the Moore League, Larry Casian went the full eleven innings before losing a heartbreaker to Poly, 1-0. The Lancers came back with eleven runs to slaughter Millikan and eighteen more to rout the Compton Tarbabes. Twelve returning lettermen, including Mike Moore, Bob Liebzeit and Dennis McCartney, provided a strong squad. The infield was anchored by the Grebeck brothers. Hard hitting and good pitching were the hallmarks of Coach Herbold's team.

JV Baseball

One of the strongest sports traditions at Lakewood has been the continued success of junior varsity baseball. For ten of the last eleven years the team has captured the Moore League crown and, in so doing, has amassed the greatest string of victories of any Lancer squad. The coach who deserves a great deal of credit for such an awesome record is Matty Lampson. His abilities to instill the winning spirit as well as to teach fundamentals were again evident in 1982. Boasting a 7-1 overall record, they were well on their way to another league championship. Outstanding pitching by Chris Vieira and Jay Fitzgerald proved to be a key ingredient in the victories compiled by the junior horsehiders. Lakewood's offensive attack was bolstered by the strong slugging of sophomores Mike McCarthy, Wes Vandiver, Jeff Nielsen and Marty Galvan. The defensive work of Vince Castenon and Jeff Robinson was also a major team asset. The tenth consecutive Moore League Championship was the attainable goal of Coaches Lampson and Boaz, as well as the 1982 Junior Varsity Team.

Screams of encouragement and excitement were endemic to Lancer softball fans. The excellent play by all team members led to the pre-season victories over Morningside and Los Alamitos. With the exceptional pitching of Jill Wells and Kim Kleinhelter and the tremendous hitting of Tracy Blake and Toni Corelli, this team had all of the signs of being league leaders. Water Polo

The excitement and never-ending action provided by the 1981 water polo teams led Lancers into a state of awe. The sport, a traditional stronghold, required endurance, skill and long practice sessions that were held early in the morning. Varsity standouts Scott Thomas, Paul Nyssen and John Schoenberger scored one hundred and five goals. Another source of strength for the team was Mike Alves, who finished the season despite a serious shoulder injury. The league record of 2-3 did not accurately reflect the fine performances turned in by Coach Nicholson's team. The junior varsity was a mixture of varsity and sophomores, depending on who had the endurance to go another game. Their 2-2 season showed they had the potential to make next year's varsity even better. Sophomores, led by Kerry and Kris Leidich, as well as John Berg, took an extremely close second, losing to Wilson by a mere two points.

Boys' Swimming

The boys' varsity swim team started the year by compiling an outstanding 5-1 pre-league record. The team showed exceptional potential; great performances by Brady Wisdom in the breaststroke and Phil Marr in the backstroke made the meets exciting to watch. With such an auspicious start, the team could be counted on for a finish high in the Moore League. Considering that many schools have dropped junior varsity swim competition, the LHS jv's did not get many chances to compete. However, David Austin and Spencer Harris turned in remarkable performances during the season. The sophomores provided some highlights of their own in 1982. Kristen and Kerry Leidich captured the freestyle events, while Robert Alves in the butterfly and Keith Austin in the breaststroke showed great form. The girls' varsity swim team had one of its best seasons in recent years. With the help of Lilyn Djie, Paula Perry, Shannon O'Neil and frosh Chris Blackowitz, this team went undefeated in pre-season meets. The opening of Moore League competition did not daunt these ladies as they kept up their winning ways.

Cross Country

The cross country teams exhibited fleetness, agility and endurance in their races against the other league teams. The varsity squad was intent on always doing its best and, even though they finished behind Millikan and Wilson, they provided great competition for the other schools. Distaff standouts such as All-City Valerie Choy, Liz Moore and Kara Black helped the group win many meets. Male spikers Richard Graves, also All-City, Leonard Kenyon, Mike Cadiz and Jeff Jorgensen led the team to easy victories against Compton and Poly. Coaches Meyer and Lind kept the runners in shape with summer practices and daily two-hour workouts. Although many lettermen will be lost this year, young talent like Donna Gerke and Heather Beard assure an outstanding future for the Lancer cross country teams.

Varsity Basketball

The varsity basketball team enjoyed its finest season in its twenty-five year history. The Lancers, under the skillful guidance of Coach Tim Sweeney, won three pre-season tournaments, the Lakewood, Beverly Hills and the Orange Optimist. On their way to a perfect 15-0 pre-season record, the Lancers beat many high calibre teams, such as St. Bernerd, Ocean View, Fountain Valley and St. Anthony. The Lancers rolled through the first round of the Moore League and improved their record to 20-0 before losing twice in the second round to Poly and Millikan. Lakewood, despite its two setbacks, tied for the league title for the first time. The squad was led by four returning lettermen. Center Tod Murphy, Moore League MVP, led the Lancers in scoring and rebounding. Senior forward Dwayne Corbitt excited the crowds with his flashy moves and scoring ability. Mark Nielsen, a three year starter, hit numerous long jumpers and could be counted on to score in clutch situations. Point guard Barry Barnes also enjoyed an outstanding season. Finally, Tony Pope improved with every game and will be looked to for leadership in '83.

Lakewood Lancers — CIF 4-A Champions: this was the goal that Coach Sweeney and the Lakewood varsity worked toward the entire season. Entering the single-elimination play-offs, the Lancers were matched with many of the southland's great teams. In the opening round, Lakewood played a strong Bishop Montgomery squad before a sell-out crowd in their gym. The Lancers showed true power by pounding the Knights in a game in which every Lancer contributed. The Lancers played host to Serra in the second round which was held at Long Beach City College. Lakewood again prevailed as winners in a close and exciting game. The toughest challenge for the school came in the quarter finals as Lakewood beat one of the finest CIF contenders, Rolling Hills. The semi-finals saw a meeting with St. Anthony, a team which the Lancers had handily beaten twice earlier in the season. Playing in the spacious Long Beach Arena, Lakewood started off strong and never let up, pummeling the Saints by a twenty point margin. Then, for the first time in the history of the school the Lancers were playing for the CIF championship. Before 9,000 eager fans, the Red Rage dispatched a strong Inglewood team, 82-70, to become the 1982 CIF 4-A Southern Section Champions.

Boys' Tennis

Under the skillful direction of Coaches Krebs and Riley, the 1982 boys' tennis team promised to be one of the better ones in recent years. Long hours of battling tennis elbow, practicing backhands and serving teammates paid off as the team headed into the regular season. The team looked especially strong against archrivals Wilson and Millikan. Excellence on the court was shown by Dean Whitten, Greg Lopez, Karl Ward and John Dawdy. While the boys' team was warming-up for their spring matches, the girls' squad was already in league competition. They did very well, placing second in the Moore League and going on to the CIF. Tracy Blake and Shannon Yarnell led the team with the most wins. Two doubles teams from Lakewood made all-league and ended up playing against each other, Carol Pinder and Kim Wedekind beating Tracy Blake and Shannon Yarnell. The jv's also had a respectable season and held the hopes for Coach Gonzales.

"Keep your head down!" "Straighten that left arm!" "You have the grip of a grandmother!" These and other words of encouragement greeted Lancer golfers as they performed for their veteran coach, Tom Gough. The long practice rounds soon gave way to a series of matches that would test any team: eight straight matches in as many days was the toughest sports schedule at Lakewood. Promising superstar Eric Reed performed remarkable feats with his long drives and sure putts. Ninth grade golf artistry was evident in the confident swing of Matt Paul. Overall, the varsity and JV teams played very well and finished high in the Moore League standings. The badminton team got off to an awesome beginning by beating always tough Poly, 8-5. This first Moore League match was only an indication of the fine play to come. Jeri Kasemsant and her hot racquet led the team to their numerous victories. Modern Dance

Volleyball

The participants in the modern dance class were among the most enthusiastic at the school. The program offered dancers the opportunity to learn the many methods of dance, as well as improving their composure and flaunting their self-expression. An additional advantage was that the group became acquainted with various musical forms. Through the help and experience of Ms. Graves, the class learned the fine points of dance, including exercising techniques such as aerobics and jazzercise. In lieu of an experienced squad, this year's volleyball team consisted of mostly juniors and sophomores. The young team battled it out with Jordan for first place in league, but fell short by a score of ten to fifteen. The lady Lancers advanced to the CIF quarterfinals beating Arroyo Grande and Thousand Oaks, before losing to Alta Loma in five games. Laurie Semon won All-League and All-City honors and Kathy Demers achieved All-League. Kudos to Coach Allars for a fine season.

Boys' Gymnastics

The 1982 boys' gymnastics team displayed great potential and were expected to finish in the upper Moore League standings. All members of the team practiced long hours so that they could carry on the tradition of being the winningest sports group in the school's history. Under the careful guidance of Coach Flood, such standouts as juniors Bob Lyons and Scott Christen and senior Aubrey Johnson showed great promise in pre-league meets. Upcoming talent included David Anderson, Stuart Miller and Steve Walker. The girls' gymnastics team has been in league competition for five years, winning first place in 1980. The girls compete in four olympic events: vaulting, uneven parallel bars, balance beam, and floor exercises. Carin Galletta, a ninth grader, promises to be an outstanding addition to the team. Regulars such as sisters Lynn and Robin Bancroft, Lisa Edwards and Nancy Redman also hold bright hopes for Super Coach Allars.

Helen Z. Hansen, Principal

Although running a school with over 2,600 students and 159 faculty, administration and staff members is a challenging task, Mrs. Helen Z. Hansen, Lakewood's third principal in twenty-five years, carried on the tradition of concerned and active leadership. She took an active interest in students, teachers and staff members and led them in working together to ensure that the second quarter century would be as successful as the first. Representing Lakewood High School in the community and within the school district kept her busy. However, she always managed to find time to talk with parents, confer with students, and make the extra effort to be available to everyone. Mrs. Hansen has proven in her three-year tenure that she is a leader in the true Lancer tradition.

1. MRS. HANSEN and PTA President BARBARA NEWTON make a special effort to greet parents on Back-to-School Night. 2. ESL students proudly show their progress to their principal. 3. MRS. HANSEN congratulates TOD MURPHY, RANDY JONES, MARK NEILSEN and RICK BLAZER on their basketball triumphs. 4. MRS. HANSEN joins the PTA BOARD MEMBERS in celebration of the successful fund-raising drive. 5. TRICIA RASCOE and DONNA WALKER discuss their winning entries in the Space Shuttle Project with MRS. HANSEN. 6. MRS. MINTZES, the principal's secretary, was a great help in taking care of routine matters. 7. BRAD DAVIS gives MRS. HANSEN an art lesson. 8. MRS. HANSEN beams at the prospect of the first basketball victory over Poly in 19 years.

Administrators/Counselors

The administration and counseling staffs provided a vast array of services for Lancers in 1981-82. Each morning, the office was alive with activity as students rushed to get re-admitted, find the answer to a quick question, or make a counseling appointment. A new semester found counselors and students busy arranging and re-arranging class schedules. Administrators also provided guidance and helped to work out problems. The career board attracted students looking for after-school jobs, and counselors helped seniors choose careers, determine the best colleges and fill out scholarship applications. Every Lakewood student knew he could go to a counselor or administrator for help, advice or a word of encouragement.

English

English was a required subject for freshmen, sophomores and juniors, but that didn't mean that it wasn't enjoyable. In fact, many seniors took an English class as an elective to gain more knowledge and improve their skills. Lancers had a large offering of courses from which to choose: British literature, linguistics and semantics, film analysis, creative writing, drama and journalism were among the electives offered. Many of the department's accomplishments were enjoyed by the entire student body. The sophomore class published the 1982 edition of "Sophomore Writes", a compilation of stories, poems and essays. Journalism students carried on the LHS tradition of journalistic excellence in the LANCE, while the drama department featured Terry McDonald and Lianne Newell in "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court". The achievements of the English department enriched the entire school.

Library/Media Center

Why did Lancers spend so much time in the LHS library? When asked, they replied: "I need a quiet place to study", "I can read all of the books I want to without paying for them", "I'm doing research for a term paper", or even "I just love to read". The Lakewood library provided novels, reference materials, magazines, newspapers, a quiet atmosphere and, most important, a knowledgeable staff. Located adjacent to the library was the media center, with its floor-to-ceiling stacks of filmstrips, tapes, movies, and video discs available to every student. The library and media center were the largest concentration of learning materials at Lakewood High School.

1. MR. PIKOP keeps his class entertained during a discussion of the comma. 2. MR. NORTHEN explains the qualities of a good essay. 3. ROBIN BANCROFT helps MR. General Studies

The general studies department strove to provide sophomores with experience and to expose them to the possibilities and opportunities that await them. Health education taught how to cope with stress, disease, diet and dating. Drivers' education and training provided a chance to learn the rules of the road and let students get that all-important credential, the license. Students also had the opportunity to explore career options in the required guidance classes. After completing the curriculum, a sophomore was well-prepared to meet the world.

Social Studies

Social studies classes taught Lancers how to better understand events in the complicated world around them. Juniors studied United States history and agonized over writing term papers; many chose to take the advanced placement examination for college credit. Seniors learned about government and also had the choice of many electives, including: psychology of love and marriage, current affairs, contemporary world problems, geography, economics, sociology and criminal law. The department stressed the importance of the past as it related to present problems. With this knowledge Lancers were well-prepared to understand the future.

1. MRS. BALBIRNIE points out that listening pays off. 2. MR. RYAN explains the Revolutionary War to LOU PARENT. 3. Students get a preview of an up-coming test from MR. SPARKMAN. 4. MIKE REHOSKE and ALEX DIXON pick up their test scores from MR. MEDNICK. 5. Questions on Congress never stumped MR. DANIELS. 6. MR. HOLZMAN is confused by the intelligence of his students. 7. MR. Mathematics

The Lakewood math department, headed by Walter Cramond, offered a wide range of mathematics courses, from basic math to calculus, to meet the diverse needs of its students. Lancers "debugged" computer programs, drew hyperboles and sketched cosines in an effort to better understand the world of mathematics. For those who wanted extra help or challenges, a special math club was available. The energetic faculty members left no stone unturned, no method untried and no equation unsolved in their quest to prepare Lancers for college, the business world or just day-to-day living.

1. MR. MINER decides to let JESUS GALVEZ do a board demonstration. 2. MR. CRAMOND shows the fine points of computer programming to TERESA GREENWOOD. 3. PAIGE ROSENBERG gets some good advice from MR. Business Education

From accounting and office machine operation to shorthand, the business department taught Lancers valuable skills and helped them prepare for their futures. Students learned speed and accuracy in typing classes and the legal aspects of business in business law. PROJECT INvest enabled students to learn the basics of insurance company operations, with many sophomores purchasing insurance policies as part of their driver's education courses. The business classes and faculty put many of "today's Lancers" on the road to becoming "tomorrow's business leaders".

1. MRS. DAVIS points out common typwriting errors. 2. MR. FOERSTER helps JILL GANCE with her shorthand assignment. 3. An unidentified teacher tells GAIL DENNISON, "I'm WRIGHT"! 4. MRS. Foreign Language/ESL

Learning about the world through the study of language and culture was the goal of the Lakewood foreign language department. All Lancers were urged to expose themselves to a second language, whether it was German, French, Spanish, Latin or, for ESL students, English. Students learning English as a second language studied especially hard since speaking and understanding the language was their key to success in all of their other classes. Special opportunities, such as the summer study program in Mexico, gave the students a chance to learn more about the world in which they live.

1. JEFF SMITH beams with laughter at MR. YOUNG'S dialogue. 2. MR. SHAILER displays a famous Spanish hand signal. 3. The difference between American and German television programs is explained by MRS. Science

As the world became increasingly complex, LHS students learned to understand and appreciate its complexity and beauty in courses offered by the science department. Biology, earth science and chemistry classes provided Lancers with a broad background. More specialized courses such as marine biology, anatomy, physiology, and zoology examined organisms and their environments in greater detail. Photography also proved to be a popular offering in 1982. From developing film to current developments in microbiology, the science department encouraged creativity and learning.

1. MR. SAUNDERS helps LAURIE SHORT find her unknown. 2. MR. SHAFER "drives home" his chemistry theory. 3. MR. HOUGHTON goes through the science dictionary with ROSALIND LEATHERWOOD. 4. MR. Home Ec/Art/Music

The home economics, art and music departments enriched the students who enrolled in these programs. Students in home economics took advantage of the school's fine facilities and learned practical skills in cooking, child care, sewing and interior design. The department urged students to take an active role and sponsored events like holiday parties for pre-schoolers. The art department concentrated on conveying an understanding of art forms and styles. Projects from painting to plant holders were completed by students in drawing and painting, sculpting and crafts. Beginners in the music department could learn to sing or play an instrument, while accomplished musicians became members of the band, orchestra or one of the vocal groups.

Industrial Arts

In industrial arts classes, Lancers learned marketable skills, saved money, and just plain had fun. Auto mechanics students had an opportunity to use their own cars as "guinea pigs" while learning auto repair techniques. Students in architectural drafting studied housing design, while those in print shop classes learned how to run the presses. Enthusiastic electronics buffs came to zero period to delve into such mysteries as the internal functions of the pentagrid converter. Woods and metals taught everything from building furniture to making bicycle frames. For students interested in hands-on learning, industrial arts was the place to be.

Physical Education

Every Lancer who enrolled in one of the many physical education classes offered at Lakewood had an opportunity to learn firsthand about the thrill of victory, the agony of defeat and the challenge of getting suited up in a hurry. Co-ed physical education classes were popular and students enjoyed activities such as tennis, basketball, softball, football, gymnastics, weight lifting, badminton, swimming and power volleyball. Teachers and coaches stressed the importance of a healthy body and regular exercise, and students enjoyed a chance to work out and compete with friends.

1. MRS. CHANDLER demonstrates the proper way to field a ball. 2. Power volleyball students needed a lot of supervision from COACH ALLARS. 3.MR. HENNIGAN combines roll-taking with an exercise. 4. Counselor Mary Wille

Mary Wille, who joined the Lakewood counseling staff in the fall of 1968, is an outstanding person. She is conscientious, frank, sincere, and approaches her work with a gracious but firm manner. Her ability to listen and approach problems with a positive attitude have made her one of the favorite Lancers. When an entering sophomore asked a senior who Mrs. Wille was, the senior replied, "Oh, you know her; she's the one who always has a big smile!" Her personality makes everyone want to be her friend. However, a great disposition is not her only attribute. As a counselor Mrs. Wille has that special skill of guiding a student to a certain goal. Her time is always available and she gives freely of herself so that her counselees may reach the promises of which they dream. Not only has Mrs. Wille helped her assigned students, but she spends a great deal of time on behalf of all Lancers. As the chairperson of the Scholarship and Awards Committee since 1976, she has spent uncounted hours informing and helping students in regards to scholarships. The gift of giving is truly hers. Thank you, Mrs. Wille, from the hearts of the hundreds and thousands of Lancers whom you have helped. Your grace, style, intelligence and friendship have touched us all.

Chris,
I don't have much to say but your future is looking good and that I hope everything turnes out great! We had many great times together and It was fun. If it ever changes between you and him give me a call because you know I still care. I will be back next year to see you as often as possible and don't worry I won't forget about you and your - eyes - !

Chris,

Hi, what's up besides the sky. HAHA well your right! It has been one hell of a year but one hell of a good one. We've had a lot of good times like all of the field trips and we've had some bad times, to bad I can't remember any. "Oh well" Next year is going to be twice as good as this year because I will have known you the year. You too are one of my closest friends in the hole wide world! I Love you like a sister, a girl friend and any other reason someone could love someone for. With my luck I'll end up with all my classes with you, well at least most of them well that's all I can think of especialy when you won't let me cheat.

Love you
Forever,

Scotter

Good Luck Next Year!

Chris—
This is a double sigalng for this year and last year At Bancroft, which I missed due to Chicken Pox. For these two years I youve had a wonderful exit and a great athletic career. I will! See ya next year Sophomore!

Chris,
I am glad I know you. You ARE A sweet person. Have A HOT summer and I'll see you next YEAR.
Love YA!
Suzette

Chris,
What a year! It's gone so fast. The time we spent together were times to remember like the float-building-parties and the car wash. Well, maybe not all of the car wash. I hope we get to know each other better next year.
Love,
Sandra

Chris-
I can't believe it! At the beginning of this year we were little cadres. Now look at us! I'm really glad I got to know you this year. You are such a sweet person. I really had fun in Spanish (it was a blast!) I don't think I'll ever forget what a jerk Mr. Small is. Thanks also for listening to all my "love" problems. (When nobody else would!) You and Mitch work out O.K. Best of luck! I better go, this is starting to look like a book.

Love & Friends,
April Woods

CHRIS
HEY, IT'S BEEN GREAT HAVING YOU IN CLASS. GOOD LUCK IN SWIMMING & THE NEXT 3 YEAR AT LKWD HIGH (FRESHMAN). HOPE TO HAVE YOU IN A CLASS NEXT YEAR. HAVE AN AWESOME SUMMER & HOPE TO SEE YOU AT THE BEACH.
